

Opus Gas Supply Limited

Companies Act, Section 172 statement

The Directors have a duty to promote the success of the Company, having regard to a range of matters and stakeholders. The Board is responsible for ensuring effective engagement with stakeholders it recognises that decisions taken today will have an impact upon stakeholders, as well as shape the longer-term performance of the business. Appropriate consideration is important in enabling Drax to deliver positive outcomes for the climate, nature and people, and to deliver sustainable value creation.

Examples of how the Board have had regard to the matters set out in Section 172 are set out below. Comprehensive details in respect of stakeholders identified across the Drax Group plc group (the “Group”) and how we engage with them and have regard to their interests, can be found from page 96 to 102 in the Drax Group plc 2024 Annual Report and Accounts.

The likely consequences of any decision in the long term

Our purpose is to enable a zero carbon, lower cost energy future. With multi-year time horizons for many of our strategic and investment decisions, we recognise that these decisions can have an impact far beyond our business and well into the future. We see an important role in supporting the decarbonisation of British businesses through the supply of renewable energy and carbon offset certificates, which we believe could evolve in the future to the provision of carbon removal certificates.

The need to foster the Company’s business relationships

Customers

Engagement has allowed us to build strong relationships with our customers, so we have a better understanding of their needs to improve customer service, develop relevant products and keep them informed. We engage with our customers through channels such as social media, our website, by phone and through our complaints procedure. During 2024, we invested in our market insight activities and communication channels, recognising the speed at which the energy markets are evolving. The cost of energy remained a critical issue for our customers in 2024. We had regular communication with customers, which included engaging with customers requiring additional support with payment arrangements tailored to their needs, and with Third-Party Intermediaries (TPIs). Engagement allows us to create enduring solutions that improves the overall service experience.

Suppliers

Our relationships with relevant suppliers are governed by contracts that include compliance with relevant regulatory and legal requirements such as anti-bribery, corruption and modern slavery rules. Suppliers are also required to adhere to our supplier code of conduct. These are regularly reviewed by our Procurement, Legal, and Business Ethics functions and the Company also monitors prompt payment performance to identify where we can improve to help maintain positive supplier relationships.

SECTION 172 STATEMENT

Regulators

Engagement with Ofgem and the Department for Energy Security & Net Zero (DESNZ) enables us to promote best practice and remain compliant in line with latest guidance.

The impact of the Company's operations on the community and the environment

Tackling climate change is an important part of our purpose, and our strategic objectives are aligned to global renewable energy and decarbonisation agendas. Our Group ambition is to reach net zero across our value chain by 2040. For more information see pages 38 to 43 in the Drax Group plc 2024 Annual Report and Accounts.

We believe strong community relationships and effective engagement strengthen our ability to operate effectively. We engage regularly with communities through supporting local initiatives and holding drop-in sessions. To read more about our positive social impact across the Group, see pages 96 to 102 in the Drax Group plc 2024 Annual Report and Accounts.

Opus is committed to being a good neighbour in the communities where we operate. We achieve this by combining active community engagement with corporate giving. Throughout 2024, the Drax Foundation has continued to provide grant funding for non-profit organisations that share our commitment to improving equitable access to STEM education, community green spaces, and renewable energy. We prioritise projects and programmes that support underrepresented and underserved groups.

The desirability of the Company for maintaining a reputation for high standards of business conduct

At Opus, we are committed to conducting business ethically, with honesty and integrity. We do not condone any behaviour that could give rise to concerns or the perception of bribery or corruption.

Our Business Ethics compliance framework identifies the behaviours expected from colleagues on a broad range of topics. In 2024, we furthered our efforts to promote awareness of and trust in our Speak Up culture and methods of reporting, through internal communications to all business areas at all locations using a variety of channels including news stories, emails, posters, digital screens, virtual presentations and in-person events. We also strengthened our approach to the avoidance of bribery and corruption through updated mandatory eLearning for all colleagues. For more details on how the Business Ethics programme is managed, see page 53 of the Drax Group plc 2024 Annual Report and Accounts.

The need to act fairly as between members of the Company

Our ultimate parent company is Drax Group plc and therefore we act in the best interests of our immediate and ultimate parent companies and, in doing so, in the best interest of the investors and shareholders of the Group. This ensures that the interests of all relevant stakeholders, and the need to act fairly between members of the Company, are considered during decision-making.

Engagement with shareholders of the Group allows us to understand the concerns and priorities of current and prospective investors, in areas such as climate change; sustainability; executive pay; dividends; longer-term capital allocation policy; and strategy, which are taken into account in our decision making.

This statement was approved by the Board on 26 June 2025 as part of the Company's 2024 Annual Report and Accounts.
